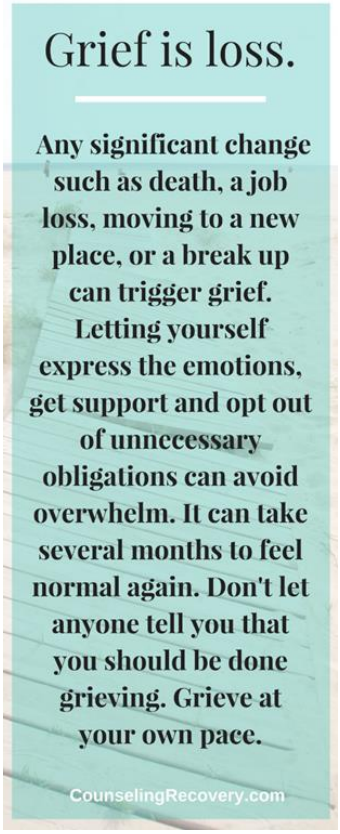
Notes:



"By the time a child in our society has reached the age of 15, she or he has received more than 23,000 inputs suggesting that not only should they not feel bad in reaction to a grief event, but that they shouldn't share those feelings with others." – GriefRecoveryMethod.com